

Water

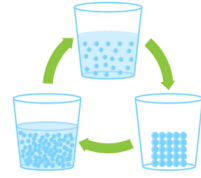

Fun fact for kids

Water: the "universal solvent," vital for life, dissolves more than any other liquid.

The reason for many of water's unique properties lies in its hydrogen bonds.

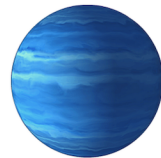

Water is unique: it reaches its maximum density at 4°C, causing ice to float.

evaporation, condensation, precipitation; vital for Earth's climate and freshwater distribution.

Water: Earth's dominant compound, comprising 71% of its surface.

Earth: "Blue Planet" for its watery abundance seen as a blue hue from space.

Water ice found on Mars raises hopes for discovering microbial life.

Water conservation is critical due to limited freshwater, much of which is trapped in ice caps & glaciers.

Water vital: 60% body, regulates temp, transports nutrients, removes waste.

Water you drink today might've been part of a dinosaur's bath millions of years ago!

Water is essential for a vast array of life, from plankton to whales.

Angel Falls, Venezuela: World's tallest waterfall at 3,212 ft (979 m).